ECM Provider Configures Scanner Solution to Construction Industry with ABBYY TouchTo Technology

Business Challenge

As a premier ECM provider to the construction industries, Construction Imaging delivers consulting and software solutions that help clients increase their operations' efficiency by department or across the entire organization.

Construction companies are challenged by efficiently processing the array of job- and Accounts Payable-related documents from multiple remote job sites. Sorting through the paperwork takes time Project Managers at the construction site have little of, and documents end up buried and eventually overnighted to the central office. Construction Imaging is addressing this challenge by offering a solution that allows customers at various remote job sites to handle paperwork with touch-screen ease directly into an integrated back-end system.

Their objectives were to provide a capture solution for onsite project managers that allowed them to:

- Efficiently scan in a variety of documents-one at a time or in a batch
- Alleviate manual document processing with automatic indexing
- Ensure immediate routing to the appropriate personnel directly from the field
- Easily operate the scanner with an intuitive touch-screen interface

ABBYY Solution

ABBYY provided Construction Imaging with its powerful TouchTo™ Technology, which, together with the Fujitsu fi-6010N scanner, efficiently manages information by turning information on a business document into digital data that's indexed with a simple tap of the screen.

"We're using TouchTo more like a toolkit by embedding it inside our own offering, 'CaptureTouch™,' which has screens specifically tailored to the needs of the construction industry. CaptureTouch provides a seamless integration between the 6010N scanner, TouchTo and EMC's ApplicationXtender. Documents and their metadata are instantly captured and made available in the ECM system."
